DOEBERL CUP.

I had not intended to issue a news sheet immediately after Easter but when I saw Michael Gluzman's analysis of the game Solomon v Schön in the Doeberl cup I felt I had to share it with my fellow members As a point of interest Eugene was the highest ranked Victorian in the field narrowly missing out on a podium finish and an IM norm

Our Calendar Guru David Flude made a few comments on the tournament The Doeberl Cup is played every year in Canberra at Easter. Players from all over australia and from overseas attend. A good number of Box Hill players attended. It is played in three divisions. The field in the Premier division was fearsomely strong including six Grandmasters and a large number of International Masters and FIDE Masters.

Nevertheless the players from Box Hill acquitted themselves very well. There are too many to mention them all As far as I am concerned the following are highlights.

Eugene Schön finished eighth on count back including defeating the very strong International Master Stephen Solomon as black. Eugene had a tough draw . In particular he played the top seed GM Sune Berg Hansen of Denmark in the last round when both players needed to win to score second place in the tournament. Unfortunately Eugene lost. Darryl Johansen and Bobby Cheng finished 12th and thirteenth on 5.5 points amongst others separated by count back. I noticed that Bobby as black drew with a Grandmaster but I have not studied his results in detail. In the Major Thomas Feng finished third on 5.5 points, half a point behind the first and second place winners. Rad Chmiel performed very solidly to finish seventh on count back on five points amongst several others.

In recently concluded Doeberl Cup, Eugene Schon has played very well, beating a few higher rated opponents. He finished just half a point behind best performing Australians GM David Smerdon and FM Max Illingworth, narrowly missing on the international master norm. Below is his win against international master Stephen Solomon where Eugene's superior opening preparation and good defensive skills earned him a full point.
