Still upsets continued in round 2 as on board 7 saw Dmitri slip up against fast improving Sam Gluzman and then Max on board 10 went down against the other Dmitri in what was the longest game of the round. Thomas Ebeyan is a bit of an unknown quantity but he completely outplayed Shaun Fielder. Fludey lost on time in a postponed game which may or may not have had the clock set incorrectly. This result determined the pairing together of the 2 travellers from Malasia, who are due to return on the day after round 3.

It is good to see so many new faces and the return of Dmitri Dyson, although he seems a little rusty

Canterbury Day-nighter

The Bendigo bank sponsorship opens up fresh opportunities for the format of the upcoming Canterbury day nighter now that we do not have to rely entirely on the entry fees to make the tournament viable. I will ask the organising committee of Peter Tsai and Trevor Stanning what their thoughts are

John Kable is recovering well

Life member and Box Hill Chess Club public officer John Kable is recovering well from the rather intrusive open heart surgery he underwent some weeks ago. He is at home and likes to talk to his friends. I came across this picture taken on the open day. John and David Flude

The editors absence

I usually try and get away at this time of the year and this year will be no exception. I will be away for the whole of September and next week's issue will be the last one for awhile. It will be good to get away as it has been a busy time at the 11	Levi, Eddy	2183	2209	2

12	Hamilton, Doug	2179	2051	0.5

The situation at the top has not changed a great deal after round 8 Although Leonid and Laurence improved their chances with good wins Darryl by drawing with Mirko and losing to Eddy did nothing to improve his lot. Dusan despite losing to Mirko remains in the best position on 6.5 with 2 games to go. Bobby on 7 with one game left.
 Leonid of course could also get to 8.5 if he wins all his remaining games. In fact any one of 2,3 or 4 will win if they win all their remaining games. Individual results are available on the CV web site

 She should move up. Gerry

The 2011 Box Hill Masters

1	Jordan, Bill	2275	2256	4
2-3	Martinez, Oct	1881	1780	3.5
	Raine, Marcus	2046	2000	3.5

7	Bartnik, Rob		1559	1.5
8	D'Onofrio, Gus		1566	1
9-10	Hayman, Adam	1672	1561	0.5
	Flude, David	1790	1713	0.5

These are the standings after round 5. Karl Zelesco is now 2 games behind due to his sojourn in Malasia and of course Marcus his opponent from last night is now also a game behind

This hard fought tournament continued on Tuesday with some further hard fought games. Robert Bartnik stopped the run of Max Chew Lee with a win as black. Marcus Raine versus Karl Zelesco was postponed as Karl is overseas. Enoch Fan and Gus D'onofrio was drawn after a difficult rook ending. Bill Jordan won after an exchange sacrifice for a pawn failed to give David sufficient compensation. Octavio Martinez defeated Adam Hayman.

Some reflections on our progress

When I first joined the Box Hill Chess Club in the early sixties we met on Friday nights in the tennis pavilion in the park at Irving Avenue. Smoking was then allowed and one often played in a blue haze of evil smelling tobacco. There were then no tournament with prize money, no national rating systems and no swiss tournaments. Round robins were the only way. The club had one top player double Australian Junior Champion Bill Kerr [who recently rejoined our club] whom I don't think ever collected prize money.

Be all that as it may, sponsorship then was not obtainable or even needed

It is now

We run large tournaments with considerable prize money, we have big junior programs, we have extensive coaching facilities amongst the best in the land. We now have a major junior chess organization and we have moved into chess tournaments beyond our club role. Like the Vic Open and the Vic Junior Championships. We have just completed the Oceania Senior zonal and a FIDE arbiters seminar with considerable sponsorship from the Asian Chess Federation obtained for us by Oceania zone president Brian Jones and now the Canterbury and Surrey Hills community branches have become a major sponsor of our clubs with the encouragement of director Dick Menting. We must keep moving otherwise there will be stagnation and then you die

World news: Viktor Korchnoi won the rapid tournament, one of a number of events commemorating the centenary of the birth of Mikhail Botvinnik who was born August 17th 1911. Anand, Carlsen, Aronian and Kramnik play September 1st-3rd in the most prestigious of these celebrations.

The above game was one of the most exiting games to watch I hope Michael will find some more games from this most interesting event
